

Technical oil for the maintenance of mechanical components, such as eyepieces in telescopes. It is characterized by proper viscosity.