Camrock City V380 is a large case containing a SLR camera (eg Canon 5D, 50D, 500D, Nikon D300) with a larger lens (eg telephoto type 55-200 mm, 70-300 mm, etc.). With three adjustable "wings" inside the case, its center can be freely adjusted to the size of the camera and lens! It is therefore possible to fit the case also to the camera with a small 18-55 mm lens. The City V380 case is made extremely solid with durable and thick 1950D TXP nylon. The hardened construction with soft filling and impregnation of the case guarantee effective protection of the equipment against mechanical damage and damping. City V380 combines modern design with functionality and high resistance to damage.

The case has four main pockets and several smaller ones - internal. The set includes two straps: the shoulder and the iliac (photo 5). The hip belt is especially useful for longer journeys. The use of both straps allows you to keep the case on the body, even while running. In addition, the case has a detachable "handle" and a belt attachment. The shoulder strap buckles are made of metal. CHARACTERISTICS
