

Redleaf RD22 lamp is a unique, multifunctional solution for amateur outdoor sports, diving, and photography and film enthusiasts. It has an intuitive interface and works wherever the shortage of light becomes an obstacle in achieving sufficient lighting for the frame. The lamp offers six working modes with different angles and brightness. For the safety of extreme sports enthusiasts, Redleaf RD22 also has a built-in SOS light mode that can be quickly activated if necessary. The maximum brightness of the beam is 320 lumens. Thanks to the several types of fixing included in the Redleaf RD22 set, it can be used with both sports cameras and mounted on a tripod. Water resistance of the device enabling working under water up to a depth of 50 meters. This makes the Redleaf RD22 accessory necessary when diving with a camera or camcorder. It allows you to record material wherever natural light does not reach or is insufficient. Parameters and features

- LEDs: 3 x LEDs
- output power: up to 320 lumens (approx. 1 hour glow time)
- maximum working time: 6 hours @ 60 lm
- water resistance: up to 50 meters
- battery: lithium-polymer charged via USB, exchangeable, 1050 mAh, 3.89 Wh compatibility: GoPro cameras, sport cameras with GoPro mounts, photo tripods via adapter

- accessories in the set: mount for GoPro sports cameras, photo tripod adapter, USB cable, milk diffuser and red
- lamp dimensions: 5 x 5 x 5 cm
- lamp weight (without battery and accessories): 90 g