

The L filter (luminance) is responsible for the mapping of the entire visible range with the cut-off of infrared and ultraviolet. Necessary to normalize the number of photons in channels R, G and B. Binding: 1.25 " (measurements on the Varian Cary 100 spectrophotometer, July 2015)