Fauna Polski

PTAKI

Dorota Zawadzka

The book "Ptaki" is another item from the "Polish Fauna" series. It presents breeding birds, winter visitors and birds that regularly and sporadically observed in Poland until 31/05/2015 (452 species). They are described in a systematic order according to the latest state of knowledge. The descriptions of breeding species and regularly observed in Poland include: characteristics of birds' appearance, their distribution in the world and in Poland, biology, protective status, threats to the species in the modern world. In addition, the description of each of the above species is enriched with a map of breeding sites in Poland (for breeding species) and a diagram showing the annual life cycle of birds. All descriptions are richly illustrated with excellent photographs, facilitating familiarization with the diagnostic features and behavior of birds listed in the book of species. Pictures of birds sporadically appearing in Poland are also provided with photographs, sometimes even photographs documenting these few observations. Additional information
