

We present you with the Ruike Jager F118 knife. The knife was based on a full-tang construction, making it ideally suited for heavy camp work or for survival enthusiasts. The knife blade was made of Sandvik 14C28N stainless steel, so that the knife will keep sharp for a long time and be easy to sharpen. Ruike Jager F118 knife covers are made of G10 and its textured surface guarantees a secure grip. The producer with the knife supplies a sheath made of plastic, which thanks to the clip can be attached to our tool or belt. Thanks to the elegant packaging, the knife can be an ideal offer for a gift.
