

teleskopy.pl

The Fenix E20 has been upgraded, a model whose main feature is an unusual change of modes. Now you only need to operate with one button and the operating mode will change. Just enough! The Fenix E20 flashlight is an extremely intuitive equipment! Now some technical data. It is powered by two AA batteries (finger). The power of 265 lumens, working time is 75 hours (on alkaline batteries), and the range is 210 meters. Like all Fenix flashlights, the E20 model is waterproof (IPX-8) and meets high standards of durability. Modes of operation Technical parameters / characteristics

- maximum lighting power: 265 lumens
- maximum range: 210 m
- body: anodized T6 duralumin (Mil-Spec)
- ultra clear glass, chemically reinforced, with AR coating
- source of light: XP-E2 diode
- lifespan of the diode: over 50,000 hours
- resistance to rain and moisture: YES
- immersion resistance: YES (permanent immersion, protection against immersion in water - the equipment is resistant to immersion in conditions defined by the manufacturer, the product may be subject to penetration after exceeding the depth recommended by the manufacturer)
- power supply: 2x AA 1.5 V ("finger")
- dimensions: 154 mm (length) x & phi = 21 mm (diameter)
- weight: 90 g (without batteries)

Warranty 5 years