

Vortex mounting, which, thanks to the 45 ° inclination, mount the collimator next to the telescopic sight. This solution will allow you to quickly move between aiming at a short distance and precise aiming at longer distances.